SRA Names S4 Inc., a Partner on the SITE Contract, to Provide Support to Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA)

SRA Team Awarded $6.6 Billion Multi-Award Contract Providing IT and Systems Engineering Support

Burlington, MA, August 19, 2010 — S4 Inc., a small business specializing in information-domain based solutions and services, recently announced it is part of one of the teams that has won an indefinite delivery, indefinite quantity (IDIQ) multiple-award contract from the Department of Defense's Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA) as a subcontractor to SRA International, Inc. SRA was selected as one of 11 awardees for the Solutions for the Information Technology Enterprise (SITE) program, which has a ceiling of $6.6 billion over five years, if all options are exercised.

DIA is a combat support agency that provides military intelligence to warfighters, defense policymakers and force planners in support of U.S. military operations and weapon systems acquisition. The SITE contract is designed to enable streamlined execution; simplify purchase requests; standardize acquisition documentation; improve enterprise program management for customers; provide better reporting capability; improve contracting performance and data integrity; and make the agency's overall information technology acquisition processes more efficient.

Under the SITE contract, S4 Inc. will provide support in areas including technology assessment and evaluation; systems engineering; operations support; network operations and administration; and information assurance.

"S4 looks forward to working with the SRA team to support DIA's mission," said Chandu Shah, President and CEO of S4 Inc. "We are fully committed to providing superior, responsive IT services to intelligence missions."
